Hold the Date: Green Protein Knowledge Transfer

Wednesday 25th April, Venue TBC
(South West Wales)

This event aims to cover key issues surrounding protein sources, valuable insights into consumer attitudes and to explore some of the alternative proteins available such as sea weed and algae.

Following Veganuary, the drive to reducing the environmental impact of food production and concerns over sustainable food is increasingly at the forefront of consumers' minds.

This is your opportunity to hear from speakers on consumer insights, seaweed, algae and Veganuary, to grasp a deeper understanding of the upcoming issues, as well as providing an opportunity to share your views and insights with like-minded delegates.

We are also pleased to be joined by Kantar who will provide feedback on their consumer panel.
