

Justine Sarah Fosh – Chief Executive Officer, Improve

Justine Fosh is Chief Executive of The National Skills Academy for Food and Drink and Improve. Having spent 15 years working in commercial positions in food and drink manufacturing companies including Sara Lee, Grolsch, McCain and Uniq she moved to Learndirect and first entered the skills arena. She joined Improve and established their National Skills Academy before becoming Chief Executive of both businesses. Justine sits on the Executive of Scotland Food and Drink the industry leadership body for food and drink. She is a graduate in Industrial Relations and Marketing from Strathclyde University.