FREELANCER GRANT - PURPOSE OF THE GRANT
The purpose of the grant is to support freelancers who continue to face financial challenges in the period from April 2021 - September 2021 as a result of the COVID-19 outbreak.

FREELANCER GRANT – WHO CAN APPLY?
Support is available to assist freelancer professionals whose work has direct creative/cultural outcomes, who work in the five key sub sectors:

- The Arts;
- Creative Industries;
- Arts and Heritage;
- Events;
- Culture and Heritage.

Our priority for this round is helping those who remain affected by the COVID – 19 outbreak (musicians / those working in events, theatre etc).

Freelancers from the wedding and events industries are eligible to apply in this round.

To find out more please visit the eligibility checker on https://fundchecker.businesswales.gov.wales/culture

You will also be eligible if you’re employed part-time and also have a freelance professional creative practice, however, please note this grant is targeted at freelancers in most need of support due to loss of earnings as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic. Income will be taken into account as part of the assessment.

If you have received previous support from either the Government Job Retention Scheme and Self-employment Income Support Scheme and are experiencing financial challenges you are still eligible for this fund, however, those that have received SEISS in previous rounds will be given a lower priority against those of similar income that have not received SEISS.

You will not be eligible:

- If you are a freelancer working in the sport sector;
- Freelancers who work in film & TV, video games, software and other digital entertainment industries are not the intended recipients of this support as these markets are now operating at normal or near normal levels. However we understand that some specific roles including those in film & TV may still be affected (e.g. writers / musicians). Where this impact can be shown to be a result of COVID-19 restrictions, we will accept applications.
This funding is specifically for creative/cultural subsectors and roles that have been forced to cease work and/or face difficulties restarting because of the impact of COVID-19 restrictions. Those in roles that have been able to continue at previous or near previous levels of activity (e.g. architects, graphic designers, games designers etc.) with or without support should not apply.

How do you define freelancer?

 Freelancers are sometimes known as contractors, may run their own business and are often defined as self-employed although they may differ slightly from the self-employed. Freelancers may carry out multiple jobs on behalf of different companies, and often tend to work alone. A freelancer tends to work on numerous short-term contracts, offering services and time to various organisations in return for an agreed fee. Freelancers can include sole traders and those who work for themselves, within the defined sectors.

You may find the following definition helpful:

- “A freelancer can be defined as someone who is commissioned to produce work or provide a service for a client, on a one off or short term contractual basis.”
- “A freelancer is not someone who produces goods and then takes them to a market place (retail/wholesale outlet of any kind), this person is considered a producer for retail.”

Freelancers will need to provide: Scanned documents and photos of paper statements are acceptable forms of evidence for this purpose. Photos of screens showing statements are acceptable, however photos of mobile banking apps are very difficult to review and are not accepted.

- A declaration of income received in the years Apr 2019 – March 2020 and April 2020 – March 2021 is required, with bank statements reflecting this income for the months of January – March 2021. Bank statements will allow us to see SEISS payments made in the recent round.
- Unique Tax Reference (UTR) Number or P60
- A CV, website, or a detailed LinkedIn account.
